J & E Hall International J & E Hall is one of the world's foremost refrigeration solution providers. We have been developing refrigeration technology for over 120 years and are able to call upon unrivalled expertise and cutting edge production capabilities worldwide. This allows us to offer a seamlessly integrated single source of supply and deliver the complete end-to-end service from design and manufacture to installation, maintenance and on-going support. As a member of the Daikin group, we are reassuringly committed to innovation and the environment. As such, our product and service portfolios continually set the benchmark for quality, reliability and energy efficiency. Furthermore, as a market-leading organisation, we have configured our operations around five customer-driven business areas. These allow us to focus carefully on Refrigeration for Process Systems, including bespoke refrigeration systems; Installation and Service; Marine Systems; Commercial and Industrial Products and Spare Parts support to provide a level of service that is unparalleled within our chosen markets.
