Multiprint UK Multiprint UK have specialised in providing embroidery, garment printing and printing services to the general public, corporate, public sector, armed forces, schools, charities and sports clubs for over 25 years. We supply all types of clothing such as work wear, safety wear, sports kits, corporate clothing as well as bespoke items made to your specifications for any types of corporate events or for an individual's special occasions such as holidays, stag parties, hen parties or birthdays, please see our gallery, In addition we also supply printed stationery, corporate and promotional gifts please feel free to browse our range of goods. History Multiprint UK's parent company, Walsall Leather Company Limited, can trace its history back to 1883. It was purchased by the Stephens family in 1928 and traded as suppliers to the cobbler's trade until after the Second World War. The retail trade in those days was solely luggage, fancy leather goods and handbags but in 1978 we moved into the Sports Retail trade under the trading name of Stephens Sports. Through the sports department we had several enquiries for printed or embroidered sports goods. We found suppliers for these but felt that the service and quality left a lot to be desired. The Managing Director at the time, Mr. John Stephens, commented that "we could do better than that ourselves!" and so Multiprint UK was born. With the decline of both the Leather goods and the Sports trade it was decided to close down the retail arm of the company and concentrate solely on Multiprint UK. Multiprint UK then went from strength to strength, and is now one of the leading suppliers of everything from Work wear to promotional merchandise in the industry. We are still in the same premises with a large ground floor showroom and complete in-house print and embroidery service. With over 25 years print and embroidery experience, along with our in-house production service, we are able to fulfil our commitment to provide excellent service and quality for any job, however small or large. Multiprint UK now boasts a large, loyal customer base including The British Army, ADT Fire and Security and Asda who keep coming back time and time again.
