BACHE GROUP

The Bache Group of Companies are a privately owned fabrication business based in the West Midlands. Led by Chairman and Chief Executive, Robert Bache, the business has developed rapidly since the acquisition of Genwork Limited and E.A.Lewis. The Bache Group has wide ranging capabilities in the Fabrication, Security and Materials Handling field, allowing us to design, develop and execute right first time projects. We specialise in delivering ambitious and innovative manufactured projects that serve both clients and companies who use them every day. Working with The Bache Group you will experience a 'can do' attitude, allied with the ambition to achieve. We work hard to satisfy our clients' goals, and as a result we have a challenging approach to the way we work - always striving for greater efficiency and improved methods. We directly employ all our staff - from site operatives to niche specialists - and recruit from an array of professional backgrounds. Consequently we have an impressive set of skills in-house, bringing savings to our customers and exerting greater leverage in the marketplace. We are a developing group and that means challenge, opportunity and huge potential for those working for us. We are always looking for fresh ways of developing the business to strive for continuous improvement in our performance. Some of the Services we Offer Include: Fabrication Engineers West Midlands • Gates & Railings West Midlands • Materials Handling Equipment West Midlands • Security Fences West Midlands • Sheet Metal Fabricators West Midlands
